SALES DEPARTMENT

September 24, 1913.

Mr. John Dierking,
St. Clair, Mo.

Dear Sir:

The Hamburg office advises that you subscribed for some stock under the 1909 stock subscription plan, on which we understand you have paid up. Consequently they advise that you are now entitled to the special bonus on the stock purchased by yourself, providing the same is still in your possession.

If it is, we would ask you to kindly take it with you on your next trip to St. Louis, have Mr. Brubaker examine, and he can then write us, giving the numbers of the certificates and the shares they represent; and he can also confirm the fact that the stock is still in your name, which is one of the stipulations on which the special bonus is paid, and each stock holder under this plan is called upon to prove his present ownership of the stock originally purchased, the same as we are asking of you.

Upon receipt of the proper advice from Mr. Brubaker we will arrange to send you a check for this special bonus, and in the absence of further advice from you to the contrary, we will address same to you at St. Clair, Missouri.

Yours truly,

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CORPORATION,
